

MARIA ZAHLE

Born in Denmark en 1979

Vit et travaille à Copenhagen, Danemark

Maria Zahle's multidisciplinary practice includes collage, textiles, sculpture, performance, and poetry. For years, she has been creating her own dyes using natural materials and plants she grows herself: indigo, madder, linen, mignonette, walnuts, soot... Thus, her delicate palette of blues, pinks, reds, yellows, greens, and blacks is the result of a long and complex process rooted in nature and the history of humanity since ancient times. Her work highlights the body and its involvement throughout the creative process, focusing on the traces we leave on the people and spaces we encounter.
