

BRICE LIAUD

Born in 1997 in Grenoble where he lives and works, Brice Liaud graduated from ESAD Saint-Étienne (School of Art and Design) in 2020 and obtained an MA in Creative Writing at Université du Havre in 2023. Reflective writing, metafiction, and invisible bibliophilia are the core of his reflections and research.

He is a member of the Collège of Pataphysics and the Éditions Espaces — Éditeur Scientifique.

The publishing house Éditions Espaces — Éditeur Scientifique has been slowly emerging since 2020. Books are published in small editions, guided by exigency as goes for the quality of the chosen texts and their incarnation in the book space. Texts are chosen beyond their literary genre; the editorial choices reflect a sensitivity to the different layers of meaning, to a self-observing literature that explores its own (im)possibilities and potentialities.
